

Ghosn granted bail by Tokyo court after 107 days in jail

Tuesday, 05 March 2019

The Tokyo District Court has approved today bail for indicted former Renault-Nissan Chairman Carlos Ghosn, who has been in detention since his Nov. 19 arrest in Japan.

The decision came Tuesday in Japan, following the third attempt to win release of the 64-year-old Ghosn after 107 days in detention. The court set bail at ¥1 billion ($8.9 million).

It was unclear when Ghosn might walk free. Japan's Nikkei newspaper reported that the Tokyo District Prosecutor's Office was expected to appeal the decision the same day.
